

Disclaimer

E-mail

The information in our e-mail messages are exclusive intended for the (legal) persons named and can contain personal or confidential information which may not be made public by agreement or legal and regulatory requirements. If someone else then addressee receives an e-mail message or got in possession by other manner this person is not allowed to use, forwarding, disclosing or copying of this message. Please notify ALEC International S.A. immediately and delete this e-mail from your system. ALEC International S.A. does not accept liability for correct and complete transfer of the content of this e-mail, neither for timely reception of that, neither for the absence of viruses.

All our offers, quotations, agreements and deliveries are exclusively subject to the Conditions of Business of the Waren-Verein der Hamburger Börse e.V. (WVB) in its respectively valid version upon contract execution (follow link or download free of charge from our website <http://www.alec-intl.com/custom/conditions-of-business-en.pdf>). We explicitly reject general conditions from our contractual counterparts, unless we explicitly agree in writing with the applicability of such general conditions from our contractual counterparts.

Website

General

Mentioned below applies on the web page. By using the web page you agree with these disclaimer.

Exclusion of liability

All information on this web page has been intended for personal use. From the information, no rights can be borrowed. Changes and typographical errors reserved. We do our best the information on this web page being as complete and precisely as possible. ALEC International S.A. does not accepts any responsibility for damage on any manner risen by use, incompleteness or inadequacy of the offered information on this website. Also no responsibility will be accepted for the content of websites to which are referred or that refer to this website. All liability for damage, suffered to consequence of a visit at someone else's website via a hyperlink on this website or otherwise, is excluded.

Availability

The information and recommendations on this website can be changed without prior warning or notification. We do our best to let this web page as much as possible available, but we do not accept any liability for possible consequences of (temporarily) non-availability.

Copyrights and intellectual properties

ALEC International S.A. reserves all rights (including copyrights, trademark and patents) in relation with the content offered at this website (including texts, graphic material and logo's). Except downloading and printing of the offered information for personal use, it is not allowed, without explicit written permission of the ALEC International S.A., to copy, multiply the content of this website, or in any manner to distribute nor to publicize. All copyrights reserved. Paraguayan law is of application.

Privacy policy

The personal data given by you will be used for the purpose intended. These facts will not be given to third parties. On the other hand ALEC International S.A. uses these facts to improve her service to you. In case of objection you can let us know by e-mail, your facts will be immediately removed from the system. Your visit at this website will be watched by cookies. The information that we collect by this cookies, will be used to improve the usability of our website. The facts will not be provided traceable to origin of individual computers to other parties. When you don't want the use of cookies, you have to switch it off in your Internet browser.

Contact us

When you have questions about privacy or the use of this site, contact us at info@alec-intl.com